

Stem cell research becoming a focus of Presidential campaign_82304

August 13, 2004

Posted: 8/13/04

Stem cell research becoming a focus of Presidential campaign

By Robert Marus

ABP Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON (ABP)—On the third anniversary of a controversial decision by President Bush limiting embryonic stem-cell research, both parties' presidential campaigns focused on the morally contentious topic.

---

CYBERCOLUMN by Brett Younger: St. Paul goes to the writing workshop_82304

August 13, 2004

Posted: 8/13/04

CYBERCOLUMN:

St. Paul goes to the writing workshop

By Brett Younger

My wife, Carol, and I recently attended a “spiritual writing workshop” at St. John’s College in Santa Fe. The 15 students in our class took turns shredding one another’s stories, sermons and essays. It was helpful, but by the end of the week, I wondered what would happen to 1 Corinthians 13 if the Apostle Paul first submitted it for review to a writing workshop.

“OK, Paul, you know the rules. You have to be quiet until we finish critiquing your piece. Who wants to start?”

---

Bivocational ministers’ group changes name_80904

August 13, 2004

Posted: 8/06/04

Bivocational ministers' group changes name

By John Hall

Texas Baptist Communications

BELTON-The Texas Baptist Bivocational Ministers and Spouses Association changed its name and became more closely aligned with the Baptist General Convention of Texas at its recent meeting, adopting a revised constitution.

---

Biblical ignorance, lack of prayer lead to conflict, mediator says_80904

August 13, 2004

Posted: 8/06/04

Biblical ignorance, lack of prayer lead to conflict, mediator says

By Toby Druin

Editor Emeritus

SAN ANTONIO-Ignorance of what the Bible says about relationships and lack of prayer are common denominators in most church conflicts, said Blake Coffee, a San Antonio attorney who heads a growing ministry to congregations in trouble and those seeking to avoid it.

---

Canadian Southern Baptists take steps toward name change_80904

August 13, 2004

Posted: 8/06/04

Canadian Southern Baptists take steps toward name change

By Frank Stirk

Canadian Horizon

TORONTO (BP)—After being known for 20 years as the Canadian Convention of Southern Baptists, messengers to the annual meeting in Toronto voted to take the first tentative step toward considering a new name.

---

DBU students seek to 'turn the

tide' against AIDS in Africa_80904

August 13, 2004

Posted: 8/06/04

DBU students seek to 'turn the tide' against AIDS in Africa

By Kristi Brooks

Dallas Baptist University

DALLAS-In an effort to "turn the tide" against the spread of HIV-AIDS in sub-Saharan Africa, a group of Dallas Baptist University students spent a month there this summer, carrying a message of sexual abstinence to students in Swaziland's schools.

---

Coalition urges Supreme Court to ban death penalty for minors_80904

August 13, 2004

Posted: 8/06/04

Coalition urges Supreme Court to ban death penalty for minors

By Robert Marus

ABP Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON (ABP)-A broad coalition of concerned parties-including Nobel laureates, scientific leaders, foreign countries and American religious denominations-is urging the Supreme Court to ban the death penalty for offenders under age 18 at the time they commit their crimes.

---

Social justice takes back seat to hot-button political issues_80904

August 13, 2004

Posted: 8/06/04

Social justice takes back seat to hot-button political issues

By Sandi Villarreal

Associated Baptist Press

WASHINGTON (ABP)-Same-sex marriage and abortion are overshadowing other moral issues in the presidential election, even among Christian voters, who make up the overwhelming majority of the electorate.

---

Pastor's slideshow voting guide sparks complaint with IRS_80904

August 13, 2004

Posted: 8/06/04

Pastor's slideshow voting guide sparks complaint with IRS

SPRINGDALE, Ark. (ABP)-Americans United for Separation of Church and State, a religious-liberty watchdog organization, has filed a complaint with the IRS against the 14,000-member First Baptist Church of Springdale, Ark., the largest church affiliated with the Arkansas Baptist State Convention, for what it considers partisan politics, according to the Arkansas Democrat-Gazette.

The church's pastor, Ronnie Floyd, preached a patriotic sermon July 4 during which he encouraged members to "vote God" in the November election. Floyd did not mention either President Bush or Democratic challenger John Kerry by name, nor did he indicate which candidate he personally favored. Rather, he urged members to vote "by the authority of God's word, Christian values, convictions and beliefs."

Ronnie Floyd
-----------------

But Americans United claims the message crossed the line of the Internal Revenue Service Tax Code for tax-exempt churches, which prohibits churches from participating or intervening in political campaigns on behalf of or in opposition to any candidate for public office.

---

San Angelo-area volunteers start pilot Christian Men's Job Corps program_80904

August 13, 2004

Posted: 8/06/04

San Angelo-area volunteers start pilot Christian Men's Job Corps program

By George Henson

Staff Writer

SAN ANGELO-Roger Juli-en knows a good thing when he sees it.

---

Serving God in dark places is a privilege, shooting survivor tells new missionaries_80904

August 13, 2004

Posted: 8/06/04

Serving God in dark places is a privilege, shooting survivor tells new missionaries

By Mark Kelly

International Mission Board

TYLER (BP)—The hardships of missionary service can be discouraging, but worshipping God in a spiritually dark place is a privilege beyond compare, Iraq shooting survivor Carrie McDonnall told 58 new missionaries in Tyler.

---

'777' on the pager means somebody is praying_80904

August 13, 2004

Posted: 8/06/04

'777' on the pager means somebody is praying

By George Henson

Staff Writer

DALLAS-Prayer and pagers are being brought together in an innovative way that benefits congregations and people in need.