Correct wiring, grounding crucial for baptistry microphones

By Ken Camp

Managing Editor

Electricity and water create a potentially deadly combination, but metal-not microphones themselves-present the greatest danger to people in baptistries, acoustic and church building consultants agree.

Root causes & accountability

Hurricane Katrina uncovered a multitude of reasons for great poverty in New Orleans, not the least of which is longstanding graft and corruption.

"Mrs. Parks was much, much more than the bus woman. Rosa Parks shifted the gears of the universe all her life. Now she belongs to the universe. Thank you, Sister Rosa. Thank you, Rosa Parks."

Julian Bond

Chairman of the NAACP, a civil rights organization in which Parks was active, recalling how her simple act transcended the globe (RNS)

"Many of us, particularly those of us who are raising teenagers, feel like we're in a battle for our kids' hearts, minds and souls, and sometimes we're not winning. It occurred to me the other day, the only people who don't have sex on network television are married people."

John Carr

Secretary of the Department of Social Development and World Peace of the U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops (RNS)

"The issue is not whether you accept Jesus, but whether he accepts you! I'm afraid there will be people in hell who prayed to receive Christ, but who never allowed him to deal with their sin."

Henry Blackaby

Author of Experiencing God, emphasizing the need for repentance (ABP)

Throwing money at the problem will not solve it there. Good citizens and taxpayers must demand that as rebuilding begins the same people who facilitated the poverty are held accountable and not allowed to participate in the “new” New Orleans. If the root problems of poverty are not addressed, all the money in the world will not solve it. More money is spent on poverty now than ever before if you look at individual giving, government spending and corporate giving.

Resolutions to BGCT may be submitted in advance. Messengers to the Baptist General Convention of Texas annual meeting who wish to present resolutions for consideration of the BGCT committee on resolutions are encouraged to submit the resolution in writing prior to the convention, said Chairman Joseph Parker, pastor of David Chapel Missionary Baptist Church in Austin. The deadline for submitting resolutions at the convention is 5 p.m. Monday, Nov. 14, but to allow adequate consideration by the committee and because of printing deadlines to include the resolutions in Tuesday's Convention Bulletin, Parker encourages early submission. Resolutions must be signed by an elected messenger, with church name included. Proposed resolutions may be submitted to Parker at David Chapel Missionary Baptist Church, 2211 E. Martin Luther King Jr., Austin 78702 or faxed to (512) 472-5399.

TOGETHER: The important thing is to come to God

The hearts of people across the nation have gone out to University Baptist Church in Waco and, especially, to the young family of Pastor Kyle Lake. Several calls came to me Sunday afternoon with painful messages about the death of this gifted minister as he was preparing to baptize a new believer. Surrounded by a loving congregation, the pastor was about to participate in one of the most joyous acts of worship any pastor gets to do—baptize a new disciple of Jesus Christ.

But he would not be able to finish the service. Something went wrong. He died, apparently from an electrical shock. Doctors from the congregation sought to help. Everyone prayed. But he is gone from us, and it is too soon for us.

Every pastor knows the joy of baptizing a believer. Few things we do are more fulfilling and significant. The potential of what God will do in this new disciple's life, the joy in the smile of the one being baptized, the celebration that another soul has discovered how much God loves them, the relief that comes when sins are forgiven.
