Texas Baptist Forum

Put down pen & pray

What in the world is wrong with today's Christians? How have we gone so far as to lose so much focus?

I have been reading this paper for several years, and as a pastor, I have to say that the most heart-wrenching part of it is Texas Baptist Forum. In a recent issue, I read letters involving everything from the Emmaus Walk to worship styles to the tsunami. After reading all that, I have a response for everyone who writes in or reads this paper:

- Jump to online-only letters below

Letters are welcomed. Send them to marvknox@baptiststandard.com; 250 words maximum.

Out ((Loud))

"Of the Seven Deadly Sins, anger is possibly the most fun. To lick your wounds, to smack your lips over grievances long past, to roll over your tongue the prospect of bitter confrontations still to come, to savor to the last toothsome morsel both the pain you are given and the pain you are giving back—in many ways it is a feast fit for a king. The chief drawback is that what you are wolfing down is yourself. The skeleton at the feast is you."

Frederick Buechner

Author of Wishful Thinking: A Theological ABC, quoted by Jim Denison, pastor of Park Cities Baptist Church, in his daily e-mail devotional, "The Word Today."

"Why would we invest such efforts in Catholic countries? The answer is quite simple: It is because they are lost."

Jerry Rankin

President of the Southern Baptist International Mission Board (BP)

"It's beyond question that the Democratic Party is 'pretty much a white, Christian party,' too. How could it be otherwise, considering the racial and religious makeup of the country?"

Petra calls it quits

WASHINGTON (RNS)-Members of the Christian rock group Petra announced recently they will retire in December after 33 years of performances.

John Schlitt, longtime lead singer, expressed gratitude for the opportunities that arose from being in the group.

“We've had a good, long run. ... We've seen God's hand at work in our music on every continent and in every language,” he said.

Texas Baptist Men on website. Texas Baptist Men volunteer work in rebuilding Sri Lanka six months after the South Asian tsunami is being featured on the website of Gospel for Asia, a missions organization based in Carrollton. The web video covers volunteers rebuilding a Bible college and vocational training center, as well bringing clean water to stricken villages. The video may be seen at www.gfa.org/tsunami.

Baylor preps for its largest freshman class. Baylor University anticipates the largest freshman class in the university's 160-year history. Current projections from Baylor's institutional research and testing office indicate a record-breaking freshman class of more than 3,100 students entering in fall 2005. Baylor's previous record freshman enrollment occurred in fall 1998, when 2,938 students entered the university. Enrollment management officials also report this fall's expected freshman class is on pace with last year's record SAT average of 1190 and is the most diverse incoming class in university history. Baylor's minority freshman population was 30.3 percent in fall 2004.

BUA receives $3 million matching gift. Baptist University of the Americas received a $3 million matching gift from the Houston-based Baugh Foundation-the largest single gift in the school's history. Recently, BUA and the Baptist General Convention of Texas partnered to purchase 75 acres across I-35 from the present campus, and the Baugh gift represents the initial commitment to build a new campus.
