“Prayer is a foundation of our relationship to God. We don’t spend enough time listening to God because we do too much talking.”

John Verciglio

Pastor of Cahaba Heights United Methodist Church in Birmingham, Ala.
(The Birmingham News/RNS)

“If (Dan) Brown makes us worry about people falling away from Christianity, perhaps instead we should address the deeper systemic issues in our churches and homes that leave our children malnourished in their spiritual formation and ill-equipped to engage their world with the claims of Christianity.”

Gary Long

Pastor of Willow Meadows Baptist Church in Houston, critiquing some Christians’ fear that The Da Vinci Code would prevent people from placing their faith in Christ (Not a Sermon—Just a Thought weblog)

“Quite frankly, I’m more interested in seeing our Hispanic friends afforded citizenship in heaven than I am seeing them become Americans. Having their souls redeemed by the red blood of Christ is more important than having their worker status confirmed by the green card of Uncle Sam.”

Wiley Drake

SBC gadfly and pastor of First Southern Baptist Church in Buena Park, Calif. (BP)

The attempt to redefine marriage is an argument based on emotion that is contrary to truth and to a stable society. It is a selfish argument willing to deform the basic institution of civilization—marriage—in order to legitimize an immoral lifestyle—homosexuality. Those who love God and people must speak this truth in this love at this time.
