Churches rediscovering Lent and 'full impact' of Easter

By Hannah Elliott

Associated Baptist Press

DALLAS (ABP)—For Ray Vickrey and Mike Clingenpeel, Easter doesn't mean much without about 40 days of reflection and repentance before it.

CYBER COLUMN:

The joy of socks

By Brett Younger

Most biblical scholars neglect to point out how prominent footwear is in Scripture. In Ezekiel 16:10, the prophet predicts $200 tennis shoes, “I clothed thee also with broidered work, and shod thee with badgers’ skin, and girded thee about with fine linen, and I covered thee with silk.”

The name of Jacob, one of Israel’s patriarchs, means “one who grabs the heel”—which could be paraphrased “one who grabs the sock.”

Put trust only in God

- Isaiah 24:1-31:9

By James Adair

Baptist University of the Americas, San Antonio

Isaiah 24-27 is a collection of oracles, probably from different periods of time, dealing primarily with judgment of Israel's enemies, though some prophecies of salvation for Israel also appear.

2nd Opinion: Partisan churches will feel IRS heat

By Melissa Rogers

Consider yourself warned. That's a key message the Internal Revenue Service sent to churches and charities with the materials it recently released on impermissible electioneering. While the IRS has merely slapped the wrists of most noncomplying organizations in the past, the new materials put churches and charities on notice that it will react more vigorously to violations in future election cycles.

Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code provides an exemption from tax for organizations with charitable, religious or educational purposes. The code also flatly prohibits these organizations from directly or indirectly participating or intervening in any political campaign on behalf of, or in opposition to, any candidate for elective public office. In short, this tax benefit is intended to flow to charitable, religious or education work, not partisan political activity.
