

Midwestern Seminary board meeting ends without action against Roberts

October 19, 2007

Posted: 10/19/07

Midwestern Seminary board meeting ends without action against Roberts

By Robert Marus

Associated Baptist Press

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (ABP) — Despite a public conflict with the chairman of his trustees, the president of a Southern Baptist seminary survived a board meeting Oct. 16.

According to a press release from Midwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, trustees agreed, during the two-day meeting, to “affirm” both president Phil Roberts and board chairman Gene Downing as well as “the overall direction and mission of the seminary.”

| |
|-----------------|
| Phil Roberts |
|-----------------|

Theology keeps Mormons from entering Christian mainstream

October 19, 2007

Posted: 10/19/07

Theology keeps Mormons from entering Christian mainstream

By Hannah Elliott

Associated Baptist Press

WASHINGTON (ABP)—While a Mormon presidential candidate continues to occupy a prominent place in the race for the White House, a recent study has found most Americans say they know little about the practices of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, and large majorities say their own faith is very different from the Mormon religion.

The survey, conducted by the Pew Research Center for the People & the Press and the Pew Forum on Religion & Public Life, found 51 percent of Americans have little or no awareness of the precepts and practices of Mormonism, and 53 percent say they have a favorable opinion of Mormons.

More than 50,000
Mormon missionaries, like the men
shown here, serve the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints for two years spreading their faith.
(RNS
photo/Kevin Horan/Time
Life
Pictures/Getty Images)

On the Move

October 19, 2007

Posted: 10/19/07

On the Move

- Brian Avery to Lake Shore Drive Church in Weatherford as youth minister from First Church in Palo Pinto.
 - Lee Bates to First Church in Longview as minister of music and worship from First Church in Palmetto, Fla.
 - Jeff Berger to Westbury Church in Houston as pastor.
 - Justin Bindel to First Church in Wichita Falls as interim junior high minister, where he was assistant youth minister.
-

Young people see Christians as judgmental, study shows

October 19, 2007

Posted: 10/19/07

Young people see Christians as judgmental, study shows

By Adelle Banks

Religion News Service

WASHINGTON (RNS)—Young people have graded Christianity, and so far, the report card doesn't look good.

Majorities of American young people describe modern-day Christianity as judgmental, hypocritical and anti-homosexual. What's more, many Christians don't even want to call themselves "Christian" because of the baggage that accompanies the label.

Church gives away 24,000 books in one day inside S.C. prisons

October 19, 2007
Posted: 10/19/07

Church gives away 24,000 books in one day inside S.C. prisons

By Hannah Elliott

Associated Baptist Press

COLUMBIA, S.C. (ABP)—Giving Rick Warren's best-selling The Purpose Driven Life to prisoners is nothing new for church volunteers.

But St. Andrews Baptist Church in Columbia, S.C., is distributing the book on a much broader scale than most groups. Church members gave a copy to every prisoner in the South Carolina Department of Corrections, distributing 24,000 copies in one day.

Churches use podcasts as portable outreach tool

October 19, 2007

Posted: 10/19/07

Churches use podcasts as portable outreach tool

By Robert Marus

Associated Baptist Press

ONTGOMERY, Ala.—Little white headphones that began, about five years ago, revolutionizing the way Americans listen to music may also revolutionize the way they learn about God.

Hundreds of churches and other Christian institutions are using podcasts or other easily downloadable audio and video files to spread the good word around the globe—literally—with the simple click of a mouse.

Churches of all sizes can use technology

October 19, 2007

Posted: 10/19/07

Churches of all sizes can use technology

By Vicki Brown

Missouri Word & Way

A Christianity Today survey, published in the summer issue of its Leadership journal, points out communication has taken a decidedly visual turn, and churches must take steps in that direction.

Does a church have to have at least 1,000 members, media experts on staff and a multi-million-dollar budget to take advantage of today's technology?

Same story, new language

October 19, 2007

Posted: 10/19/07

New technology helps churches tell the gospel story.

Same story, new language

By Jennfier Harris

Missouri Word & Way

Many scholars believe the church must bridge a divide before it can minister effectively in today's world.

In a rapidly changing environment, they insist the church still speaks the language of pen and paper while the culture around it communicates using technological advances.

Texas Tidbits

October 19, 2007

Posted: 10/19/07

Texas Tidbits

Wade retirement reception set. A reception honoring Baptist General Convention of Texas Executive Director Charles Wade will be held Oct. 29 following the second general session of the BGCT annual meeting that day. BGCT-affiliated institutions are hosting the event. Wade is set to retire at the end of January.

Missions banquet planned. “Catching the Winds of Missions” is the theme of a missions celebration banquet at 5 p.m., Oct. 29 in the Regency B Ballroom of the Amarillo Civic Center. The event, scheduled in conjunction with the Baptist General Convention of Texas annual meeting, will honor Cecil Deadman and Nelda Gerbine for their leadership in LifeCall and Mission Service Corps. There is no cost, but a donation to the Mary Hill Davis Offering for Texas Missions is requested. To make a reservation, e-mail stacey.rice@bgct.org.

TOGETHER: Staff reduction better sooner than later

October 19, 2007

Posted: 10/19/07

TOGETHER: Staff reduction better sooner than later

The question has been raised with me as to why I decided to reduce the size of our BGCT staff before messengers at the annual meeting have a chance to vote on the 2008 budget. They understand personnel decisions are the responsibility of the executive director, not the messengers, but the timing bothers them. Let me try to explain my reasons.

- If we had not dealt with the personnel positions until after the convention, then we would have had a month in which all of the staff would have been in limbo regarding their futures, and rumors would have been out of control, and morale would be worse, not better.

Executive Director
BGCT Executive Board

- Messengers would have felt they were determining the fate of 25 to 30 employees without sufficient information to make a good decision. They would have felt emotionally undone to have to make a decision affecting the lives and families of so many.

- If we had waited, we simply would have been prolonging worry and frustration on the part of the staff and messengers.
-

UMHB student makes service part of daily life

October 19, 2007

Posted: 10/19/07

UMHB student Felicia
Cano makes a new friend at an orphanage in Haiti.

UMHB student makes service part of daily life

The University of Mary Hardin-Baylor recognized senior Felicia Cano for her service both locally and internationally, presenting her the Gary and Diane Heavin Servant Leadership Award.

Cano began as a freshman working with children in low-income housing projects through the Belton nonprofit group Hope for the Hungry. She later made trips to Haiti with that organization, and she has worked at orphanages in Russia with Go Now Missions and in South Africa with Do Missions.

During the school year, she has volunteered at the Belton food bank and has served as co-president of UMHB's Ministry Leadership Council.

Cano is a member of Hope Community Church, a Belton congregation affiliated with the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

Women in ministry describe journey together

October 19, 2007

Posted: 10/19/07

| |
|---|
| Hardin-Simmons University student Megan Donohoue plays the guitar during the conference on women in ministry. |
|---|

Women in ministry describe journey together

By John Hall

Texas Baptist Communications

ABILENE—Dorisanne Cooper’s story isn’t simply her own. It’s the story of a Sunday school teacher, a mentor, classmates and church members, as well.

And it’s much like that for the more than 220 people—including students from Baylor University, Hardin-Simmons University, Baptist University of the Americas, University of Mary Hardin-Baylor, Wayland Baptist University, Howard Payne University and Dallas Baptist University—who participated in the Baptist General Convention of Texas’ first conference specifically for women in ministry. The gathering was a cooperative effort with Logsdon Seminary.

Participants said multiple people helped them identify and clarify God’s calling upon their respective lives. For Cooper, those people included a Sunday school teacher, seminary classmates, a pastor who served as a mentor and the church members she currently serves as pastor of Lakeshore Baptist Church in Waco.