

Snapshots of piety in America

September 29, 2006

Posted: 9/29/06

Snapshots of piety in America

By Hannah Elliott

Associated Baptist Press

WACO (ABP)—Americans may not be losing their religion after all, according to a new Baylor University study on faith in the United States. The results of the recently released study by Baylor's sociology department and Institute for Studies of Religion show, among other things:

See Related Articles:

- Snapshots of piety in America
- Americans hold four views of God, research shows
- View the entire Baylor University Religion Survey report as a pdf file here.

- The majority of people not affiliated with any religion still believe in God, and one-third pray at least occasionally.

Americans hold four views of God, research shows

September 29, 2006

Posted: 9/29/06

Americans hold four views of God, research shows

By Hannah Elliott

Associated Baptist Press

WACO (ABP)—Americans believe in four different Gods—or at least view God in four distinct ways, a new study from Baylor University revealed.

Navy chaplain convicted for protest

September 29, 2006

Posted: 9/29/06

Navy chaplain convicted for protest

By Robert Marus

Associated Baptist Press

NORFOLK, Va. (ABP)—A Navy chaplain who has accused his superiors of violating his religious freedom has been convicted by a court-martial for appearing in uniform at a rally to protest military policy on chaplains.

A military jury in Norfolk, Va., recommended that Lt. Gordon Klingenschmitt be docked $250 a month in pay for the next year and sent a letter of reprimand. The panel convicted him of violating a superior officer's orders by wearing his uniform at a March 30 press event in front of the White House.

Thailand coup's impact uncertain

September 29, 2006

Posted: 9/29/06

Thailand coup's impact uncertain

By Ken Camp

Managing Editor

Representatives from three Baptist agencies declined to speculate what long-range impact a coup in Thailand could have on missions in the region, but they confirmed the safety of all field personnel in the country.

Spokesmen for the Southern Baptist International Mission Board, Cooperative Baptist Fellowship Global Missions and American Baptist Churches International Ministries reported all their workers in Thailand had been contacted and were safe as of Sept. 20.

Committee approves amendment requiring more financial disclosure

September 29, 2006

Posted: 9/29/06

Committee approves amendment requiring more financial disclosure

By Robert Marus & Hannah Elliott

Associated Baptist Press

NASHVILLE (ABP)—The Southern Baptist Convention Executive Committee approved an amendment to governing documents that urges SBC leaders toward greater financial responsibility. Southern Baptist messengers will hear the recommendation at the June 2007 annual meeting in San Antonio.

Father of 19â14 by adoptionâspeaks with authority

September 29, 2006

Posted: 9/29/06

Pat Williams, senior vice president of the Orlando Magic NBA team, gathers with his extended international family for a Christmas photo. Fourteen of his 19 children are adopted.
--

Father of 19â€”14 by adoptionâ€”speaks with authority

By Ken Camp

Managing Editor

When Pat Williams discusses fatherhood, he speaks with the authority experience brings. Williams, senior vice president of the Orlando Magic National Basketball Association team, has 19 children—14 of them adopted.

All 19, who range in age from 21 to 34, are grown and out of their parents' house now. But Williams insists a father never stops being a father.

Cottagemates reunited at TBCH Reunion after 40 years

September 29, 2006

Posted: 9/29/06

Neal Green (center) holds a picture taken when he was in the third grade as a resident of Texas
Baptist Children's Home. He was reunited with his best friends and cottage family (left to right)
Butch Duty, Dan Kinney and Doug Zanders, after 40 years of separation during the 2006 TBCH
Alumni Reunion.

Cottagemates reunited at TBCH Reunion after 40 years

By Miranda Bradley

Children At Heart Foundation

ROUND ROCK—Clutching an old black-and-white photograph securely tucked in a plastic zipper bag, Neal Green got out of his car and set foot on the Texas Baptist Children's Home grounds for the first time in more than 40 years.

Focus on missions involvement highlights student event

September 29, 2006

Posted: 9/29/06

Focus on missions involvement highlights student event

By John Hall

Texas Baptist Communications

ARLINGTON—More than 2,500 college students traveled across Texas to learn how they could make a difference on their campuses this year in the name of Christ—and many of them started by making a difference in the Dallas-Fort Worth Metroplex.

More than 1,000 participants in Focus, a Baptist General Convention of Texas-sponsored event for college students, worked to repaint church walls, minister to children and meet physical needs of people in the area.

Amy Swainson (front) and Sacha Towery from Monument Baptist Church
paint the walls of a church that meets in an Arlington apartment complex. The project was part of Focus, a BGCT-sponsored event for college students. (Photo by John Hall/BGCT)

Acton School a hot commodity in business education

September 29, 2006

Posted: 9/29/06

Acton School a hot commodity in business education

By George Henson

Staff Writer

AUSTIN—The Acton School of Business may be little-known among Texas Baptists, but Hardin-Simmons University's Austin campus has become a hot commodity in the world of business education.

Diplomats need to know religion

September 29, 2006

Posted: 9/29/06

Diplomats need to know religion

By Kim Lawton

Religion & Ethics NewsWeekly

NEW YORK (RNS)—Former Secretary of State Madeleine Albright is breaking ranks with the conventional wisdom of her profession.

Diplomats traditionally were taught to keep far away from potentially controversial subjects like religion, she said. But now, Albright is making a high-profile plea that religion play a more prominent role both in the making of foreign policy and in the training diplomats receive.

Former Secretary of State
Madeleine Albright, seen here at a recent book-signing, says religion should play a greater role in foreign affairs and diplomacy.
(RNS photo courtesy of Religion & Ethics NewsWeekly)

Around the State

September 29, 2006

Posted: 9/29/06

Around the State

- Recording artist Randy Travis will bring an inspirational concert to the University of Mary Hardin-Baylor Oct. 7 at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are $30 and can be purchased in advance by calling (254) 295-5444.
- Reid Ryan, founder and CEO of the Round Rock Express and Corpus Christi Hooks minor league baseball clubs, will speak at the Oct. 9 11 a.m. chapel service at the University of Mary Hardin-Baylor.

The Heights Baptist Church in Richardson went offsite for its "Aloha, with Love" Vacation Bible School.

The church held its VBS from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. each evening after the local water park closed for the day. The curriculum was centered on Bible stories with water themes. The church reported an increase in attendance of more than 100 children over last year, and was especially pleased to have reached more older children.

Pictured is Matthew McBrayer crossing a water obstacle course.

- Houston Baptist University's College of Nursing will offer an international spirituality and health conference Oct. 12. Religious traditions and the relationship of these traditions to providing culturally sensitive nursing care to members of a diverse community will be identified. Practices in relation to caring for the ill, birthing and dying process in Muslim, Jewish, Buddhist and Hindu faith traditions will be explained.

Associational changes take on a variety of forms

September 29, 2006

Posted: 9/29/06

Associational changes take on a variety of forms

By John Hall

Texas Baptist Communications

“The world is changing. Churches are changing. So, why would Baptist associations be any different?” some observers of Baptist life have asked.