

Cybercolumn: Prospects for the new year by John Duncan_11204

January 9, 2004

Posted: 1/09/04

CYBERCOLUMN: Prospects for the New Year

By John Duncan

I am sitting here under the old oak tree, treasuring the prospects of a new year. My mind pulsates with the pleasures of ministry and a simple goal for a new year—to make more personal visits as a pastor.

My great Uncle John lived in a small town in South Louisiana for over 35 years. He made his living as a medical doctor. He learned the art of medicine in the Navy. He treated soldiers at Normandy during World War II.

John
Duncan

Addison Road takes a ride into Christian music_122203

January 9, 2004

Posted: 12/19/03

Addison Road takes a ride into Christian music

By Leann Callaway

Special to the Standard

RICHARDSON-With a fresh sound and youthful enthusiasm, the worship band Addison Road is breaking new ground as they make their way into the Christian music scene.

Wimberley church helps brings Christmas to nursing home_11204

January 9, 2004

Posted: 1/07/04

Wimberley church helps bring Christmas to nursing home

By George Henson

Staff Writer

WIMBERLEY—The elderly woman's eyes lit up as she saw the baby doll on top of a pile of plush animals. She scooted across the room as quickly as her paddling feet could pull her wheelchair, never taking her eyes from her prize.

Cybercolumn for 1/05/04: New Year's Resolutions by Brett Younger_11204

January 9, 2004

Posted: 1/02/04

CYBERCOLUMN New Year's Resolutions

By Brett Younger

New Year's Day is lost on some of us. I never understand the fascination with the descending ball in Times Square. I am too cheap to buy any fireworks more impressive (or more flammable) than a sparkler. Dick Clark is dull. I eat black-eyed peas all year long. Baylor is in a New Year's Day Bowl with the frequency of Halley's Comet.

I am especially tired of New Year's resolutions. The effectiveness of this practice is questionable at best. Most resolutions are completely unreasonable:

<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
Brett
Younger

Lotz: SBC proposal a 'triumph of ideology over doctrine'_12222203

January 9, 2004

Posted: 12/22/03

Lotz: SBC proposal a 'triumph of ideology over doctrine'

Buckner care continues in Russia even after the shoes are put on feet_122203

January 9, 2004

Posted: 12/19/03

Buckner care continues in Russia even after the shoes are put on feet

Russ Dilday

Buckner News Service

ST. PETERSBURG, Russia-The shoes Texas Baptists have sent to Russian orphans for the last five years represent only the first steps of ministry there through Buckner Orphan Care International.

FOOT JOY: Shoes for Russian Souls_122203

January 9, 2004

Posted: 12/19/03

Nancy Plotts of Park Cities Baptist Church in Dallas helps a girl at Veritsa Orphanage decorate a Polaroid photo.

Donna Wallis of Sulphur Springs plays with a child at Orphanage No. 40 in St. Petersburg.

FOOT JOY: Shoes for Russian Souls

By Russ Dilday

Buckner News Service

ST. PETERSBURG, Russia—Putting shoes on the feet of Russian orphans brought both joy and sorrow to Nancy Plotts, a member of Park Cities Baptist Church in Dallas.

Bush comments stir debate anew on whether all worship same God_122203

January 9, 2004

Posted: 12/19/03

Bush comments stir debate anew on whether all worship same God

By Mark O'Keefe

Religion News Service

WASHINGTON (RNS)-He's the commander in chief, not the theologian in chief. Nonetheless, President Bush stepped into a centuries-old religious controversy when he recently said of Muslims and Christians, "I believe we worship the same God."

Veteran journalist Ken Camp elected managing editor of Baptist Standard

January 9, 2004

Posted: 12/19/03

Veteran journalist Ken Camp elected managing editor of Baptist Standard

DALLAS-Veteran Texas Baptist journalist Ken Camp has been named managing editor of the Baptist Standard.

Camp, 43, has worked in the Baptist General Convention of Texas news office since 1984. For the past seven years, he has been director of news and information.

His byline has been a regular feature in the Standard for two decades, as he has reported on the ministries of Texas Baptist churches and missions endeavors such as Texas Baptist Men's disaster-relief work.

Endowed position launches CBF emphasis on church starting growth_122203

January 9, 2004

Posted: 12/19/03

Endowed position launches CBF emphasis on church starting growth

By Krista Carnet

CBF Communications

ATLANTA—Since 1999, the Cooperative Baptist Fellowship's church-starting ministry has helped launch 54 churches that are either holding services or are in the planning stages.

As troops fly through DFW Airport, chaplains offer comfort and aid 122203

January 9, 2004

Posted: 12/19/03

As troops fly through DFW Airport, chaplains offer comfort and aid

By George Henson

Staff Writer

DFW INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT-Schedules for jetliners are not the only ones at DFW Airport. Chaplains there believe God prepares divine appointments for them daily.

Garland church takes a byte out of unemployment with teaching ministry_122203

January 9, 2004

Posted: 12/19/03

Garland church takes a byte out of unemployment with teaching ministry

By George Henson

Staff Writer

GARLAND-Spring Creek Baptist Church is doing its bit to take a byte out of unemployment.