

Mark Rotramel: Pain Management

August 7, 2019

Mark Rotramel, pastor of First Baptist Church in El Paso, Texas, responded to the mass shooting that took place in El Paso on Saturday, Aug. 3, 2019. (Psalm 46)

Brooks Kimmey: God is Willing ... Are We?

August 7, 2019

Brooks Kimmey, pastor of First Baptist Church in Robinson, describes the Ninevites to whom God sent Jonah. Just as Jonah had a choice to go when God sent him to Nineveh, we have a choice to go when God sends us into the world. (Jonah 1:1-4)

Kevin Mitchell: On Mission:

Here and Now

August 7, 2019

Kevin Mitchell, pastor of First Baptist Church in Pecos, preached on the resurrection narrative, focusing on the word “believe,” which he says is central to the Gospel of John. (John 20:27-31)

William Campbell: God's Discipline of Mercy

August 7, 2019

William Campbell, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Port Aransas, Texas, examines how Jonah's moral superiority led him to run from God and end up in the belly of a great fish. (Jonah 2:1-10)

Rev. Dr. Joseph Parker: Taking the First Step

August 7, 2019

Rev. Dr. Joseph Parker, pastor of David Chapel Missionary Baptist Church in Austin, urges his hearers to consider their priorities ahead of any decision they make. (Matthew 6:33-34; 22:36-40)

Rev. Dr. Jamie Russell: The First Gospel Ministers

August 7, 2019

Rev. Dr. Jamie Russell, senior pastor of Nehemiah Community Church in Houston, Texas and director of the Baptist Student Ministry at Texas Southern University, referred to the challenge of being the first to do something to illustrate the significance of Jesus' first disciples being the first. (Mark 3:13-19)

Ross Shelton: Learning to Live by Faith

August 7, 2019

Ross Shelton, pastor of First Baptist Church in Brenham, asks what happens when our challenges don't turn out the way we hoped? (Hebrews 11:32-38)

Matthew Richard: A Defining Entrance | Baptists Preaching

August 7, 2019

Matthew Richard, pastor of Eastwood Baptist Church in Gatesville, Texas, draws a comparison between the way famous musicians make a stage entrance and the way Jesus entered Jerusalem a week before he was arrested and crucified. (Mark 11:1-11)

Ryan Chandler: God Remembers

August 7, 2019

Ryan Chandler, pastor of Trinity Baptist Church in Orange, wonders how one of the most important stories in the Bible—Noah and the flood—became a staple of children’s Sunday school and Vacation Bible School despite the horrors of it. (Genesis 8:1, 15-22)

Pete Pawelek: Wise Builders | Baptists Preaching

August 7, 2019

Pete Pawelek, pastor of Cowboy Fellowship of Atascosa County, tells a story about what he learned growing up on a ranch that people who grow up in the city don't know—like the existence and workings of water wells. (Matthew 7:24-29)

Benjamin Karner: Comfort the Discouraged

August 7, 2019

Benjamin Karner, pastor of First Baptist Church in Laredo, considers ways we become discouraged and the need to be mindful that the people around us may be in a time of discouragement. (1 Thessalonians 5:14)

Joe Loughlin: Real and Lasting Forgiveness

August 7, 2019

Joe Loughlin, pastor of First Baptist Church in Temple, marvels at the forgiveness shown by the members of Emanuel African Methodist Episcopal Church in Charleston, S.C., after a white supremacist joined a prayer group and shot and killed nine church members. (Matthew 18:19-35)