

Gift of life

April 11, 2010

Take a minute today and sign up to save lives sometime in the future.

A scary dream

April 11, 2010

Do you ever wish God—or at least an angel—appeared to you in your dreams? I do. Mostly, however, I just see an unfiltered vision of myself.

Jesus the Christ is risen!

April 11, 2010

We are Easter people. That makes all the difference, both now and forever more.

God & hard things

April 11, 2010

"Is anything too hard for God?" How you answer that question makes all the difference.

Proselytism & faith

April 11, 2010

I respect those young men in white shirts and ties who occasionally ride their bicycles through my neighborhood.

Upside down

April 11, 2010

The Texas State Board of Education ignores history, and Glenn Beck ignores the teachings of Jesus.

True love eats

April 11, 2010

As Molly and I spoke to daughters and dads in our church's True Love Waits class, I remembered my favorite symbol of raising Molly and her sister, Lindsay.

Blessing a pastoral move

April 11, 2010

How often do both congregations know when a minister is thinking about moving from one church to another?

5 points for BU's Starr

April 11, 2010

Like so much about Baylor University, Kenneth Starr's election as president has been fraught with discord. What is the way forward for Starr and for Baylor?

Faith & labels

April 11, 2010

I've been thinking about labels lately, especially since a reader metaphorically drew a huge "L" on my forehead.

Tebow, choice & life

April 11, 2010

Tim Tebow is as bold off the football field as on. His Super Bowl ad about family and life is creating quite a stir. But like most of his passes, he's on target.

Passing a torch

April 11, 2010

With the election of Albert Reyes as Buckner International's president, one of Texas Baptists' great institutions has completed a seamless transfer of leadership.