

Around the State: ETBU students gather for prayer event

September 30, 2020

While some campuses participated virtually in the annual See You at the Pole student-led prayer event on Sept. 23 in light of COVID-19, East Texas Baptist University students held an in-person prayer service organized by the campus Baptist Student Ministry while maintaining health and safety protocols. This year, the BSM focused on the unifying effect of prayer in trying times, challenging participants to pray for their school, community and country, and ask for compassionate hearts, peace, humility and patience in the midst of the global pandemic. “The purpose and energy behind See You at the Pole is powerful every year, but this year felt different,” BSM Director David Griffin said. “I believe that students came out to pray, because they know that Jesus is our only hope. We sit in the middle of a situation that we cannot control, and this event is ultimately a reminder to depend on and trust in the only one who is in control.”

Dallas Baptist University will host a Patriot Preview on Oct. 12. This event offers prospective students and their parents an opportunity to learn what DBU offers from an educational standpoint, as well as introducing them to campus life. Patriot Preview events include an all-inclusive tour of the campus, meeting professors and visiting with staff members, and sometimes attending a chapel service. In an effort to keep students, faculty, staff and visitors safe, DBU follows CDC guidelines, following social distancing requirements and enforcing the wearing of masks on campus. While COVID-19 forced Texas Baptists to postpone their annual on-site Conclave, a virtual NoClave Conclave will be held from 12 noon to 4:15 p.m. on Oct. 13. The event is designed to provide encouragement for adults who work with preschool, children, youth, family and NextGen ministries. Jim Denison, cultural commentator and founder of the Denison Forum, is the keynote speaker. The event is free for all participants. For more information, click here.
