

Churchgoers still tithing but outside of church

April 26, 2023

Most churchgoers see tithing as a biblical command and give at least 10 percent of their income. But they have more diverse opinions on the “where” and “how” of tithing, research says.

Rapture triggers haunt the Left Behind generation

April 26, 2023

Fear-saturated stories about the saved being transported to heaven while the world faces havoc can generate lifelong panic, paranoia and anxiety, according to some who grew up in a rapture-focused culture.

US-born Latinos more likely to be ‘nones’ than Catholic

April 26, 2023

Catholicism remains the largest faith of U.S. Hispanic adults, but an increasing number identify as religiously unaffiliated, a new Pew Research Center survey found.

Surveyed Christians hold conflicting views on payday loans

April 26, 2023

Three-fourths of surveyed Christians oppose predatory lending, but one-third have obtained payday loans and see them as “helpful” and “useful.”

There’s a reason most hit worship songs sound similar

April 26, 2023

A new study found a handful of megachurches have cornered the market on worship music in recent years, churning out hit after hit and dominating the worship charts.

Scripture engagement still down but interest is up

April 26, 2023

Scripture engagement remains down among Americans, but a widespread curiosity gives ground for evangelism, the American Bible Society said in releasing the first chapter of its 2023 State of the Bible survey.

Easter story in Mvskoke preserves native language

April 26, 2023

Emarthle is using her love and expertise of her native Mvskoke tongue in a collaborative project to translate “The Savior” film into Mvskoke.

God and guns culture under fire

as protests mount

April 26, 2023

The shooting at The Covenant School, which left seven dead including the shooter, highlights a dual reality of life in Nashville. It's a place where God is everywhere—and so are guns.

LGBTQ Americans tend to be younger, claim no religion

April 26, 2023

For the most part, religious Americans say their LGBTQ neighbors should be free of discrimination when they are at work, in public or at home. This is true even among groups that oppose same-sex marriage.

ADL reports antisemitic harassment spiked in 2022

April 26, 2023

A new audit of antisemitism in the United States shows a continued growth in the number of incidents reported in 2022.

Global Methodist Church recommends Truett Seminary

April 26, 2023

Truett Theological Seminary and Beeson Divinity School are on a list of recommended educational institutions for candidates seeking ordination as a deacon or elder in the Global Methodist Church.

Sharp rise in mental health struggles among young women

April 26, 2023

Research from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's Youth Risk Behavior Survey shows 57 percent of young women said they felt "persistent feelings of sadness or hopelessness" during 2021.