

New hymnal helps engage Scripture word for word

December 12, 2024

Twelve years ago, Randall Goodgame decided to help his kids memorize weekly Scripture verses in a way that came naturally to him—writing songs.

Sexuality and Gen Z an important conversation

December 12, 2024

“How can we disciple our young people well on matters of biblical sexuality?” Gary Stidham, director of training for Texas Baptists’ Center for Collegiate Ministry, asked a Texas Baptist group.

Hartford: Most congregations avoid discussing politics

December 12, 2024

Despite the incessant tracking of evangelical Christian and other religious groups through the recently ended election season, a study by the Hartford Institute for Religion Research showed most congregations are politically inactive, with nearly half actively avoiding discussing politics at their gatherings.

Less than half of Americans attend church at Christmas

December 12, 2024

As Americans make their Christmas plans, slightly less than half say they usually attend a church service during the holiday season.

Signing church services for the Deaf is a work of love

December 12, 2024

The Deaf Bible Society, a nonprofit that works to make the Bible accessible to Deaf people, lists nearly 30 houses of worship in the state that are “Deaf Churches” (led by Deaf people) or “Interpreted Churches.”

Bible study offers antidote to loneliness, study shows

December 12, 2024

The Bible protects against what the U.S. surgeon general has termed an “epidemic of loneliness” as harmful to health as smoking 15 cigarettes a day, the American Bible Society said in releasing its latest chapter of the 2024 State of the Bible.

How churches can provide respite for special needs families

December 12, 2024

Offering times of respite can be an opportunity for parents of special needs kids to reconnect with their other children and for spouses to spend time together. Churches can play a crucial role in providing this support and rest.

Porn use grows among Christians, study says

December 12, 2024

Christian men and women use pornography more today than in 2016 when Barna spotlighted the sin among pastors and congregants, an updated study found.

Churchgoers want to hear pastors address current issues

December 12, 2024

American churchgoers are looking for more than biblical explanation from their pastor each week. Many say they expect the sermons to help them understand and address modern cultural issues.

Percentage of 'Nones' flatlines for third consecutive year

December 12, 2024

The percentage of U.S. adults not affiliated with a religion has flatlined at 26 percent since 2022 after decades of growth, the American Bible Society said in its latest release from the 2024 State of the Bible.

Scholars and family: Stop taking Bonhoeffer's name in vain

December 12, 2024

Author Eric Metaxas and some other supporters of Donald Trump have compared themselves to the famed German theologian Dietrich Bonhoeffer, who was put to death for taking part in a plan to assassinate Adolph Hitler.

Follow God's call at any age, refugee advocate urges

December 12, 2024

Carla Cochrane said she first felt a call to learn more about asylum seekers in May 2019.