

Shreveport declares Maggie Lee for Good Day

October 21, 2011

An Internet-based community of people who prayed for her after the accident developed into Maggie Lee for Good—a movement to honor her memory by performing random acts of kindness on her birthday each year.

Her father, John, is an associate pastor at First Baptist Church in Shreveport and is a former pastor of First Baptist in Brownwood. Her mother, Jinny, is a Christian humorist.

“One day, one deed, one difference” sums up the essence of Maggie Lee for Good, Jinny Henson noted.

“Maggie Lee for Good Day on Oct. 29 is set apart as a day of caring where one deed can make a huge difference in another person’s life,” she said.

Shreveport organizations such as the NWLA Food Bank, Community Renewal International, VOA Lighthouse Program, Providence House, Veteran’s Transitional Housing, Life Share Blood Centers, the Shreveport-Bossier Rescue Mission, HUB Urban Ministries and Robinson’s Rescue have benefitted from Maggie Lee for Good Day.

Internationally, people in Caracas, Venezuela will take part in the event which has resulted in water wells being dug in Malawi, Africa, a house in Haiti for a family formerly living under a tarp and benefitted many thousands of others through World Vision, Heifer International and Samaritan’s Purse.

For more information, see www.maggielee4good.org . On Facebook, see facebook.com/MaggieLeeForGood or on Twitter, follow @maggielee4good.

