

Scholars share new findings on evangelicalism and mission

October 14, 2024

Scholars from around the globe, hosted by Baylor's Institute for Studies of Religion, met virtually to discuss evangelicalism and missions.

Hoogstra led Christian higher ed through decade of change

October 14, 2024

After 10 years of leading the Council for Christian Colleges and Universities, Shirley Hoogstra has a new title: president emerita.

Conclave NextGen equips leaders for ministry

October 14, 2024

More than 700 children, youth, college ministers and pastors from across Texas and beyond gathered in San Antonio for Conclave NextGen.

Obituary: Alton Elwood Breedlove

October 14, 2024

Alton Elwood Breedlove, who pioneered the family aid programs at Buckner International, died Aug. 12 in Fort Worth. He was 90.

Texans on Mission volunteers respond to two hurricanes

October 14, 2024

Texans on Mission sent key disaster relief equipment to Florida this week in advance of Hurricane Milton's landfall. The Dallas-based ministry now is seeking more volunteers to respond to what has become a two-hurricane disaster.

West Texas A&M BSM serves from a temporary home

October 14, 2024

Macie Groomer, a senior at West Texas A&M University, came to campus her freshman year searching for a community of like-minded believers.

Around the State: UMHB hosts annual Touchdowns event

October 14, 2024

The University of Mary Hardin-Baylor hosted its annual Touchdowns event, Oct. 5, during the football game against ETBU.

Mission Waco answers homelessness with community

October 14, 2024

Mission Waco has taken the first steps to create a transformational community for previously unhoused people, and the organization is inviting area churches to be part of the transformation.

Evangelicals for Harris ad prompts threat of lawsuit

October 14, 2024

An advertisement by Evangelicals for Harris that contrasts clips from a sermon by evangelist Billy Graham and statements by Donald Trump in support of Harris, is now the subject of a potential lawsuit from the Billy Graham Evangelistic Association.

BWA urges prayer and support for Lebanese Christians

October 14, 2024

Lebanon is facing a mass displacement crisis amid escalating violence, despite a history of providing sanctuary for refugees fleeing violence.

Chaplaincy: From ‘cultural competency’ to ‘cultural humility’

October 14, 2024

Neighborhood chaplain Mary Flin envisions a world where there is no space where people can be without access to spiritual care.

Truett event focuses on police and faith community

October 14, 2024

Waco Police Chief Sheryl Victorian applauded faith leaders who hosted Faith & Blue community engagement events that help to build relationships of trust with police officers and to “humanize the badge.”