Anniversaries

- Antioch Church in Bells, 150th, Nov. 11-12. Kenneth VanHorn is pastor.
- Dan Cummins, fifth, as pastor of Bridlewood Fellowship in Bullard, Jan. 7.

Deaths

- Dwight Baker, 91, Nov. 28 in Dallas. A graduate of Baylor University and Southwestern Theological Seminary, he was married while serving in Germany during World War II. He had become engaged prior to his leaving for Germany to serve as a chaplain, but the military would not let his fiancée, Emma, travel there unless they were married. To remedy the situation, his minister father performed the ceremony via transatlantic cable. After serving as pastor in Miami, Texas, in 1950, they were appointed missionaries by the Foreign Mission Board to Israel. While in Israel, he was pastor of the Baptist church in Nazareth, as well as the headmaster of the Baptist high school. In 1964, he became director of the Christian Service Training Center in Haifa and editor of the Arabic-language Baptist newspaper. The Bakers later served in India and Iran. After 36 years of mission service, he retired and taught Old Testament, Arabic and Middle Eastern studies at Baylor University, establishing the Middle Eastern studies program there. After retiring from Baylor, they moved to Duncanville and attended Cliff Temple Church in Dallas. With declining health, they moved to a retirement facility in Dallas, where he continued to teach Sunday school and lead Bible studies. He was preceded in death by his wife and son, Bron. He is survived by his sons, Bill and Steve; daughter, Carol Staton; brothers, Bill and Truett; six grandchildren; and three great-grandchildren.

- Mary Jim Currie, 94, Dec. 20 in Ballinger. A graduate of Hardin-

Simmons College, she spent nearly all her life in Paint Rock. She lived there until she was 91, when she moved to the Baptist retirement home in San Angelo. She spent the last few months in her daughter's home in Ballinger. She taught Sunday school more than 60 years at First Church in Paint Rock, where she also played the piano until she was 90. She was preceded in death by her husband of 53 years, Roy, and her sister, Jewette McLaughlin. She is survived by her daughter, Carolyn Slaughter; son, David Currie; four grandchildren; five great-grandchildren; three step-grandchildren; and seven step-great-grandchildren.

- Charles Maciel, 86, Jan. 2 in Abilene. He retired last October as pastor of Iglesia Ambler in Abilene, where he served 27 years. He was honored as Abilene Association pastor of the year in 2011. He was a member of the board of regents at Baylor University from 1990 to 1999, a trustee at Hendrick Medical Center in Abilene from 2001 to 2010 and a past moderator of the Abilene Association. Before moving to Abilene in 1984, he was pastor of churches in Corpus Christi and Tucumcari, N.M. A World War II veteran and Baylor University graduate, he is survived by his wife, Elva; daughters, Annette Sadler and Toni Jo Adams; sons, Charlie and René; brother, David; sisters, Belen Garza and Eleanor Garcia; eight grandchildren; and two great-grandchildren.

- John Hyde, 69, Jan. 2 in Midland. He was a member of Hardin-Simmons University's board of trustees from 2003 to 2011. An HSU graduate, he previously had served on the university's board of development for five years and was a lifetime member of the President's Club. He was district judge of the 238th District Court 22 years. In 2003, he and his wife established the Richard Kim Endowed Scholarship at HSU. He taught Sunday school for many years at First Church in Midland. He is survived by his wife, Sharon; daughters, Hillary Lovell and Whitney Hyde; stepmother, Marie; brother, Billy Mack; sister, Darla Martin; and two grandchildren.
