January 17, 2023

DALLAS—The search committee is accepting nominations for the next executive director of the Baptist General Convention of Texas through Jan. 31.

As noted in the search prospectus and job description posted on the Texas Baptists' website, the next executive director will provide the comprehensive spiritual, visionary, relational and organizational leadership necessary to ensure the effective implementation of the BGCT's mission.

The search committee is seeking an individual who is an active member in good standing of a Baptist church uniquely aligned with the BGCT and who is capable of serving ably as the Christ-centered spiritual leader of the BGCT.

Nominators will need to provide information about themselves and the nominee, including church membership and affiliation status, as well as a description of why they believe their candidate would be fit for the role.

Following the Jan. 31 deadline, the committee will begin a confidential review of the candidates. Nominees will be informed of their nomination and asked to provide additional information about themselves, including verifying their contact information, completing a formal application for the position and submitting their current professional resume.

The search committee was formed in July 2022 following former Executive Director David Hardage's retirement announcement. David Mahfouz, pastor of First Baptist Church in Warren, serves as committee chair.
