

Cooperation bridges 500-mile gap for mutual benefit

March 25, 2025

More than 500 miles separate First Baptist Church in Grapevine and the Valley Baptist Retreat and Conference Center. Texans on Mission helped bridge the gap, facilitating a project that mutually benefitted the North Texas church and the South Texas retreat center.

In Texas, Christian right grows confident and assertive

March 25, 2025

Testifying this month against bills that would put more Christianity in Texas public schools, Jody Harrison—an ordained Baptist minister—invoked the violent persecution of her Baptist forefathers by fellow Christians in colonial America.

Builders mentor students in construction, faith

March 25, 2025

Ray Cucancic is the master builder guiding the work of Texans on Mission Church Builders in Huntsville this spring. However, the retired contractor does more than build on the work site. He also teaches.

Migrant evangelization ministry at border on pause

March 25, 2025

Pastor Carlos Navarro began Ministerio Golán, a ministry of Iglesia Bautista West Brownsville, eight years ago, providing meals and sharing the gospel with newly arrived migrants. But their numbers have slowed to a trickle in recent weeks.

Texas House committee hears marathon ESA testimony

March 25, 2025

Hundreds of parents, teachers and other citizens gathered at the Texas Capitol to make their voices heard regarding a bill that would send public funds to private schools.

God using students in movement across Plainview campus

March 25, 2025

“Students are hungry and responding to the gospel,” said Donnie Brown, director of spiritual life at Wayland Baptist University.

Babin sees immigration service as ministry and mission

March 25, 2025

In an ongoing effort to reach local immigrant families, Randy Babin has made it his mission to help community members who cannot afford an attorney navigate immigration law.

‘Love’ drew public school advocates to Austin

March 25, 2025

Pastors, rabbis and others who met at First Baptist Church in Austin before visiting lawmakers at the Texas Capitol agreed one thing led them there—love for children and the public schools that educate them.

Gerlach brothers spur one another on to faithful ministry

March 25, 2025

Growing up in Irving, Jim and John Gerlach never expected they both would become pastors.

Armes: Bearing the image of God carries responsibility

March 25, 2025

Being made in the image of God is both an incredible gift and an incredible responsibility, said Paul Armes, president emeritus of Wayland Baptist University.

Disaster relief yoked with Christ, director says

March 25, 2025

About 150 Texans on Mission disaster relief leaders gathered Feb. 15 for their annual summit, and a biblical passage became the centerpiece of the meeting.

Texas Baptists evangelism team partners with Apartment Life

March 25, 2025

Texas Baptists' evangelism director, Oza Jones, signed a memorandum of understanding with Pete Kelly, CEO of Apartment Life, Feb. 17 prior to the Baptist General Convention of Texas Executive Board meeting.