

Baylor expert urges scrutiny of trade in looted coins

June 19, 2014

Millions of ancient looted coins from archaeological excavations enter the black market annually, and a Baylor University researcher who has seen plundered sites compares the thefts to stealing “smoking guns” from crime scenes.

Alumni Association plans defense in Baylor lawsuit

June 19, 2014

The Baylor Alumni Association plans to “resolutely—not defiantly” defend itself against a lawsuit filed by Baylor University June 6.

CommonCall: From Camo to Calvary

June 19, 2014

Outdoor Life Ministries has a single purpose—snaring for Jesus the hearts of men who love hunting, fishing and the outdoors.

Disaster relief and recovery combine to help West heal

June 19, 2014

Fourteen months ago, John Crowder didn't know the difference between disaster relief and disaster recovery. He just knew his community needed help.

Childhood abuse increases potential for future exploitation

June 19, 2014

Stephanie Henry—a survivor of childhood sexual abuse—now devotes her life to combatting human trafficking and attitudes that objectify girls and women.

Racetracks seek to expand gambling

June 19, 2014

California Chrome failed to make a lasting mark on horseracing history by winning the Triple Crown, but some Texas tracks want to make their own mark by stretching the definition of pari-mutuel gambling to include “historic racing”—a move gambling opponents consider a violation of state law.

Baylor University files suit against alumni association

June 19, 2014

About five months after Baylor University’s chief lawyer sent a letter insisting the Baylor Alumni Association “cease and desist” its use of Baylor’s licensed trademarks, the university filed a lawsuit against the independent organization.

Texas Tidbits: Gift funds UMHB nursing scholarships

June 19, 2014

A $1 million gift from an anonymous donor enabled the University of Mary Hardin-Baylor to establish an endowed scholarship that will provide full tuition for two nursing students each year.

Texans fed more children last summer, but more sites needed

June 19, 2014

Texas provided meals to 208,018 more children at state-sponsored summer meal sites in 2013 than the year before, but that still represents fewer than 12 percent of children who qualify for subsidized lunches during the school year.

Dixon and Powell receive Texas

Baptist Legacy Awards

June 19, 2014

Veteran denominational leaders Bob Dixon and Paul Powell each received the Texas Baptist Legacy Award at historic Independence Baptist Church.

Baylor Alumni Association considers options for future

June 19, 2014

When Baylor Alumni Association members gather for their fall meeting, they likely will choose one of three options as the organization's primary function going forward.

TBM completes Brownsville mission to immigrant children

June 19, 2014

Texas Baptist Men plan to wrap up their ministry to unaccompanied immigrant children in Brownsville May 31, when government contractors are set to take over providing showers for the children.