

Christians called to combat all religious persecution

October 21, 2025

Christians are commanded, commissioned and called to combat all religious persecution, international human rights attorney Knox Thames told the Global Religious Freedom Gathering at Dallas Baptist University.

Truett Seminary establishes Anglican Episcopal House

October 21, 2025

Baylor University's Truett Theological Seminary announced Oct. 13 the formation of an Anglican Episcopal House of Studies.

Chris Clayman: Frontier people groups deserve priority

October 21, 2025

Chris Clayman of the Joshua Project presented 10 reasons why frontier people groups—unreached people whose numbers exceed 1.5

billion—deserve priority in Christian missions outreach

Tony Evans' next chapter, undisclosed 'sin' and new book

October 21, 2025

Dallas megachurch founder Tony Evans has lived a mostly private life for more than a year, after announcing an undisclosed “sin” caused him to step away from the prominent pulpit where he preached for almost five decades.

Christians called to missional—not comfortable—lives

October 21, 2025

Christ calls his followers to missional lives, not lives of comfort and ease, speakers emphasized at the “Beyond Us ... From Neighborhoods to Nations” Missions Conference at First Baptist Church in Waco.

Conclave attendees urged 'never get over the gospel'

October 21, 2025

More than 640 leaders and volunteers for children, teen and young adult ministry gathered Oct. 6 and 7 at First Baptist Church in Arlington to worship and learn how to reach current and future generations for Christ and the church.

Tony Evans will not return to lead Dallas megachurch

October 21, 2025

Dallas megachurch founder Tony Evans, who stepped back from leading his church due to an undisclosed "sin" he announced last year, will not return as pastor of Oak Cliff Bible Fellowship.

Beautiful Hope Ministries aids trafficking survivors

October 21, 2025

University of Mary Hardin-Baylor sophomore Hannah Balkenbush founded Beautiful Hope Ministries in 2021 to raise awareness about human trafficking and to offer Christ-centered restoration to survivors.

David Barton to advise Texas State Board of Education

October 21, 2025

David Barton, a conservative Christian activist who considers the separation of church and state a myth, will serve as an “expert content adviser” to the Texas State Board of Education when it develops new state standards for teaching social studies.

Deacon with a disability serves

Lubbock church

October 21, 2025

Victor Reta, a member of Bacon Heights Baptist Church in Lubbock, lives with “very severe” aphasia, a language disability that affects one’s ability to speak and understand what others say. Even so, he serves in several capacities on Sunday mornings despite his disability.

Singletary steps down as dean of Baylor social work school

October 21, 2025

Jon Singletary will cease to be dean of Baylor University’s Diana R. Garland School of Social Work, effective Oct. 15.

Families file suit over Ten Commandments displays

October 21, 2025

More than a dozen Texas families filed a lawsuit in U.S. District Court on Sept. 22 seeking to stop their school districts from displaying a state-prescribed version of the Ten Commandments in public school classrooms.