

Young ministers want greater involvement in BGCT

November 4, 2021

Some young ministers want to see Millennials and Generation Z represent at least 25 percent of full-time Baptist General Convention of Texas staff and 25 percent of the convention's Executive Board and committee members by 2025.

Voters approve ban on state limiting religious gatherings

November 4, 2021

Voters approved eight amendments to the Texas Constitution on Nov. 2, including one barring the state from limiting religious services.

Tony Evans discusses Kingdom Race Theology

November 4, 2021

God uses circumstances in society to draw people near to him, Dallas

Pastor Tony Evans said, comparing the approach to his own courtship with his late wife Lois.

Baylor and Harvard researchers explore human flourishing

November 4, 2021

Baylor University researchers are partnering with Harvard University scholars in a $43.4 million international project to investigate the factors that influence human flourishing.

Middleman turns church's burden into ministry's blessing

November 4, 2021

Jesus' instruction to his disciples, "Freely you have received; freely give," not only guides Middleman Ministries' approach to reaching teenagers on the margins of society, but also governs its approach to churches and other ministries.

Baylor study analyzes impact of COVID-19 on pediatric nurses

November 4, 2021

A Baylor University-led study shows pediatric advance practice registered nurses experienced increased burnout and mental health concerns during the COVID-19 pandemic.

Texas Baptists honor some of the state's BEST educators

November 4, 2021

Texas Baptists recently recognized nine public school educators as BEST—Baptist Educators Serving Texans.

Texans will decide if governments can limit religious services

November 4, 2021

Texas voters will decide Nov. 2 whether state and local governments can impose limits on religious services, such as the public health orders that shut down houses of worship.

Truett program tackles emerging issues facing churches

November 4, 2021

Truett Theological Seminary's newly established Program for the Future Church is seeking to tackle emerging modern issues facing the church.

Call to courageous conversations about race

November 4, 2021

Systemic injustice, implicit bias, educational inequity and historical reckoning should be part of the courageous conversations Christians must engage in as they confront racism, speakers told the No Need Among You Conference in Houston.

Brian Fikkert: Alleviate poverty by reconciling relationships

November 4, 2021

Until Christians acknowledge their own brokenness, their attempts to assist the materially poor are more likely to hurt the poor than help them, economist Brian Fikkert said.

Jimmy Dorrell: Concern for the poor permeates the Bible

November 4, 2021

God's special concern for the poor permeates the Law, the Prophets and the New Testament, said Jimmy Dorrell, co-founder of Mission Waco and pastor of the Church Under the Bridge.