

Editorial: When protesters come to church

January 22, 2026

Are you prepared for protesters to come to your church? There are different ways to be prepared and one that matters most.

Voices: A call to protect the vulnerable and steps to do it

January 22, 2026

Candice Sharp Fulton challenges Christians to fulfill scriptural expectations and their moral responsibility for protecting the vulnerable.

Commentary: Why Burma's Christians need the world to act now

January 22, 2026

Representatives of Burma Research Institute explain why Baptists should advocate on behalf of Burmese Christians in the U.S. and Burma/Myanmar.

Editorial: Baptist Standard in 2026

January 22, 2026

Here's a look at the Baptist Standard in 2026. Some things are new. Some things are not going to change. And that's important.

Letter: Voices: The light through Christmas depression

January 22, 2026

A Baptist Standard reader responds to an opinion article about facing depression during Christmas.

Voices: Unencumbered: Cleaning out the garage

January 22, 2026

“Cleaning out the garage over the holidays, I had time to think about ‘stuff,’ and the new year,” Ruth Cook begins.

Voices: Like a cow lifts a calf

January 22, 2026

Pastor, author, and rancher Johnny Teague sees something of spiritual significance in an experience he had with a struggling calf.

Editorial: Carry the gospel in a disorienting world

January 22, 2026

Nigeria, Venezuela, Minneapolis, and elsewhere, the gospel is good news, and we are called to carry it in and for this world.

Voices: Point/Counterpoint: Christians and the Court

January 22, 2026

Jack Goodyear contends politics, not religion, has led to a Supreme Court more accepting of strong executive authority.

Voices: Point/Counterpoint: Catholics and the Court

January 22, 2026

Leon Blevins contends Catholics on the U.S. Supreme Court are more accepting of strong executive authority.

Editorial: We don't really want a perfect Christmas

January 22, 2026

We don't really want a perfect Christmas. We think we do. But we don't. Not if we stop and think about it.

Voices: A Christmas trek

January 22, 2026

Johnny Teague contemplates Mary and Joseph's "long, arduous journey" and Jesus' even more profound trek through life, death and life again.