

Editorial: ‘Under side’ ministry may redeem Christianity’s reputation

November 6, 2014

A grizzled culture warrior delivered the message that American culture has turned upside down. What an ironically invigorating development.

---

Editorial: Changing world, unchanging goal—report the truth

November 6, 2014

Ben Bradlee was right: We can’t envision a world, a democracy or Baptists without a free press.

---

Editorial: Give ‘Caesar’ his

due—vote

November 6, 2014

Voting is not only a civic activity, but also a faithful spiritual enterprise. Even when your vote cancels the ballot cast by the church member who sits down the pew from you Sunday after Sunday.

---

Editorial: Houston subpoenas doubly disturbing

November 6, 2014

Houston Mayor Annise Parker has inadvertently brought together people of faith across the spectrum. But she should get no prize.

---

Editorial: In Christ, we can overcome fear

November 6, 2014

Fear misappropriates logic and steals perspective. It robs people of the ability to think clearly. It replaces reason with panicky, overwrought delusion.

---

Editorial: Tell your faith story on 10/14/14

November 6, 2014

Texas Baptists will get a chance to participate in an epic “What If ...?” experience in a few days. What if all of us shared our faith experiences with unbelievers on the same day?

---

Christians urged to pray, advocate for persecuted church in Iraq and Syria

November 6, 2014

The Western church should empathize with persecuted fellow believers in the Eastern branch of the Christian family tree, religious leaders with ties to Iraq and Syria told a Baylor University audience.

---

Editorial: What we can do about declining Christian influence

November 6, 2014

More and more U.S. Christians—particularly evangelicals—think they’re losing influence and feel embattled. We can win back that influence, one loved soul at a time.

---

Editorial: Listening vital for peace, reconciliation & evangelism

November 6, 2014

What might happen if Christians—instead of trying to win doctrinal sparring contests—employed listening as a tool to strengthen our society and expand God’s kingdom?

---

Editorial: ‘What’ to think about

during the sermon

November 6, 2014

Does your mind ever wander while your pastor is preaching? (If you're the pastor, don't answer that.)

---

Editorial: For the love of God, just be nice

November 6, 2014

Recent incidents of airline passenger rage show we live in an increasingly fractious world. Kindness can provide the perfect Christian calling card.

---

Editorial: Let's be sure to feed our hungry Texas neighbors

November 6, 2014

More than 18 percent of Texans are food-insecure, meaning they do not have reliable access to affordable, nutritious food, according to the Texas Hunger Initiative. That's what makes supporting your local food banks and church feeding pantries so important.