

Letter: Baptist pastors and leaders join clemency plea for Melissa Lucio

March 29, 2022

A Baptist Standard reader joins efforts by Baptists to advocate for clemency for Melissa Lucio, wrongfully convicted of murder.

---

Letter: Editorial: Redressing sexual abuse must be thorough

March 29, 2022

A Baptist Standard reader responds to Editor Eric Black's perspective on the SBC Executive Committee's efforts to address sexual abuse.

---

Letter: Pastors say they want racial diversity but see limited

progress

March 29, 2022

A pastor and Baptist Standard reader responds to a recent report of racial diversity in Protestant churches and shares his experience.

---

Letter: Voices: Does the Bible teach universalism, that everyone will be saved?

March 29, 2022

A member of a patristic universalism Facebook group takes issue with Joshua Sharp's critique of universalism.

---

Letter: Texas abortion ban remains in effect for now

March 29, 2022

RE: Texas abortion ban remains in effect for now

How can you call an abortion limit—the Heartbeat law—a ban? You sound just like the godless, liberal, secular media!

We—God’s elect—need to use truth, not demagoguery as the measure of our reporting.

I guess if you feel abortion is good and want to stir up contention by calling a limit a ban, that’s your First Amendment right, but why should I listen to you supposedly presenting information in accordance with a biblical worldview, if you’re going to take the same approach as secular news outlets?

I started monitoring the Baptist Standard and report observations to my senior men’s Sunday school class. Maybe I just need to read CNN instead!

May God inspire and enlighten you!

Jay Nesbitt
Marshall, Texas

---

Letters: For and against criticism of Trump and Jeffress

March 29, 2022

Baptist Standard readers respond to Editor Eric Black’s Dec. 21 editorial about Trump and Jeffress and a May 2020 book review about Trump.

---

Letter: Three more kidnapped mission workers in Haiti released

March 29, 2022

A Baptist Standard reader responds to the news about American missionaries being released by their captors in Haiti.

---

Letter: Voices: Profits and perils of postmodern biblical interpretation

March 29, 2022

A Baptist Standard reader responds to Joshua Sharp's opinion article on postmodern biblical interpretation.

---

Letter:                      Commentary: Messengers are leading the SBC forward

March 29, 2022

A Baptist Standard reader responds to Matt Henslee's op-ed in response to an RNS article questioning Southern Baptist leadership.

---

Letter: Mike Stone files lawsuit against Russell Moore

March 29, 2022

A Baptist Standard reader responds to the report of Mike Stone filing a lawsuit against Russell Moore.

---

Letter: Jan Daehnert: ‘A networker and encourager’

March 29, 2022

A Baptist Standard readers shares his appreciation for Jan Daehnert, who was featured in the Deep in the Hearts of Texans column.

---

Letter: Jan Daehnert: ‘A networker and encourager’

March 29, 2022

A longtime Baptist Standard reader shares his gratitude for Jan Daehnert, featured in the Deep in the Hearts of Texans column.