

Commentary: The choice facing Southern Baptists

December 4, 2023

Denny Burk makes a case for why Southern Baptists should adopt Mike Law's constitutional amendment at the 2024 SBC annual meeting.

Commentary: Trump comments cross into Nazi territory

December 4, 2023

Robert P. Jones says, "If we care about democracy and the safety of all of our neighbors and fellow citizens," we can't dismiss former President Donald Trump's latest comments as "typical bluster."

Commentary: God first, not America first

December 4, 2023

God's kingdom isn't dependent on the success of the United States of America. But it does require God's people to behave like God's people.

Commentary: Arab-Evangelical response to Palestinian-Israeli conflict

December 4, 2023

An Arab scholar and pastor offers a view on the conflict between Israel and Palestine focused on God's image, prayer and peace.

Commentary: The fruit of the Spirit is not optional

December 4, 2023

"When indeed did the work of the Holy Spirit ... become optional?" Karen Swallow Prior asks. "It didn't, of course," she responds.

Commentary: The real threat of AI isn't what you think

December 4, 2023

"There is a foundational threat posed by AI we all seem to be ignoring, one very much related to theology," Charles C. Camosy cautions.

Comentario: Moisés, DACA y el mes de la herencia Hispana

December 4, 2023

Anyra Cano comparte la experiencia de su familia y pide que el Congreso apruebe una legislación para proteger a los "Dreamers".

Commentary: Moses, DACA and Hispanic Heritage Month

December 4, 2023

Anyra Cano shares her family's experience and calls for Congress to pass legislation to protect "Dreamers."

Commentary: Baptists and religious liberty: A forgotten story?

December 4, 2023

Baptist historian Carol Crawford Holcomb explains how Baptists have championed religious liberty and must continue to stay vigilant.

Commentary: Considerations for Texas school boards and chaplains

December 4, 2023

Katie Frugé and John Litzler offer counsel to Texas school boards weighing whether to employ or accept volunteer chaplains.

Commentary: Ministry with mavericks and rogues

December 4, 2023

Ron Danley explains how to lead more productively those who seem to do things their own way in their own time.

Commentary: 3 suggestions for faithful use of digital technology

December 4, 2023

Josepha Mbouma suggests three ways to use digital technology to facilitate discipleship rather than being a distraction from it.