

Letters: Editorial: The Supreme Court's batting a thousand. How about us?

July 2, 2020

Baptist Standard readers respond to Editor Eric Black's editorial about recent U.S. Supreme Court decisions and how Christians respond to them.

---

Voices: The image of God and race relations: A response

July 2, 2020

Mariah Humphries, a Mvskoke Native American and a Baptist Standard director, responds to two examples used in an op-ed about the image of God.

---

Letter: Voices: The image of # God is a theological foundation for race relations

July 2, 2020

A Baptist Standard reader responds to Jim Lemons' article on the doctrine of the image of God as a basis on which to establish race relations.

---

Editorial: The Supreme Court's batting a thousand. How about us?

July 2, 2020

Four recent U.S. Supreme Court decisions may be disagreeable, but how Christians demonstrate the character of Christ in response matters more.

---

Commentary: New pandemic possible: The first half of 2020

and character

July 2, 2020

Jim Denison considers significant events from the first half of 2020 in light of a Christian's posture facing the second half of the year.

---

Voices: The image of God is a theological foundation for race relations

July 2, 2020

The image of God, imago Dei, provides a robust foundation for discussions about race. Jim Lemons, theology professor at Dallas Baptist University, examines the doctrine.

---

Tresa and Mike McNeal: Serving in healthcare as a # couple

July 2, 2020

Tresa and Mike McNeal, physicians with Baylor Scott and White Hospital in Temple, share their background and thoughts about being Christians in healthcare.

---

Voices: Letter to North Texas churches: Go fully online this weekend

July 2, 2020

Jared Brandt urges North Texas churches to move services online this Sunday, June 28, as data suggests North Texas is at a pivotal moment in the Coronavirus pandemic.

---

Letter: Voices: Are houses of worship essential? A look at the # science

July 2, 2020

A Baptist Standard reader responds to an opinion article about the need for congregations to be able to meet again in person.

---

Voices: The willow, the pain of discipline and memories of the past

July 2, 2020

Whatever happens to Confederate monuments, the lessons they contain are history that shouldn't be forgotten, lest they be repeated, Gregory Tomlin contends.

---

Commentary: Symptoms, consequences of and facing

alcohol use disorder

July 2, 2020

Lawrence Traynor describes his experience abusing alcohol, including the rationalizations he used to avoid admitting he had a problem. And he offers hope.

---

Editorial: What are our children learning from us in these difficult times?

July 2, 2020

Our children are taking in and learning from everything going on around them. Editor Eric Black challenges us to be mindful of what we are teaching them.