

Voices: Remembering my mom this Mother's Day

May 6, 2025

Motherhood can be complicated. It's definitely challenging. Ruth Cook tells the story of her relationship with her mom and God's role in it.

Commentary: The weapon of faith in Russia's war on Ukraine

May 6, 2025

A Ukrainian minister describes how Russian evangelicals are being deployed as part of Russia's war strategy in Ukraine.

Voices: Fruit tree challenge

May 6, 2025

What if every church and every church member bore more fruit ... literally? Johnny Teague issues a challenge to do just that.

Commentary: How to be a son: Rediscovering identity in God's design

May 6, 2025

Kendall Lyons, whose father died recently, explores the sometimes complicated and always important father-son relationship.

Editorial: Ten Commandments bills' unintended consequences

May 6, 2025

Undoubtedly, the Ten Commandments are important. So, how, when and where they are displayed ought to be done with the utmost care.

Voices: Let's look at the pastoral life

May 6, 2025

Ron Cook considers the calling, the magnificence, the challenges and the perseverance of the pastoral life.

Editorial: A few days on, does Easter still matter?

May 6, 2025

A couple turning points happened recently. One affects a few people. The other affects the whole world. What difference does it make?

Voices: How cataract surgery was my spiritual formation

May 6, 2025

Patti Greene lays out cataract surgery as more than physical correction. For her and us, it's a practice in spiritual formation.

Editorial: Doing good when we disagree on the definition

May 6, 2025

Christians really do want to do what is good, and we really do disagree mightily over just what is good. There are plenty of examples.

Voices: A ‘ninja warrior’ and his ministry

May 6, 2025

From youth ministry in rural Texas to competitor on NBC’s American Ninja Warrior, Jared Greer is intent on communicating the gospel.

Voices: Counseling: What does it mean to ‘get help?’

May 6, 2025

Ruth and Joe Cook offer insight and advice about counseling. She shares some of her own personal experience receiving counseling.

Editorial: Jesus Christ: Conquering warrior or crucified lamb?

May 6, 2025

Against the politics of our day, amid the temptation to win the world, as we approach Easter, we need to remember who Jesus is.