

René Maciel: Texas Baptists minister to the sick and dying

January 15, 2016

Texas Baptists have 28 institutions we will be highlighting at our annual meeting this year. These institutions provide a variety of services and ministries that are foundational to the work of Texas Baptists.

Guest editorial: Agreeable disagreement

January 15, 2016

It was early in my pastoral ministry. I still thought my primary job was to please people and make them happy, ensure their comfort, and leave them liking me.

2nd Opinion: Offering hope to Syrian refugees in Lebanon

January 15, 2016

I recently heard about a mother's incredible journey of peace and reconciliation during my trip to Lebanon as part of the 21st Century Wilberforce Initiative's efforts to support education and training.

Right or Wrong? 'A living experiment'

January 15, 2016

Calls for "homogenous church growth" are being replaced with pleas for multiethnic and/or multicultural congregations. What do you think?

Editorial: Danger—and possibility—in the middle of the road

January 15, 2016

Life is dangerous in the middle of the road. Just ask New York Times columnist/PBS commentator David Brooks.

Letter: Grateful for Maciel's leadership

January 15, 2016

I am so impressed with Baptist General Convention of Texas President René Maciel's column.

Oregon: God's love a bigger deal than all else

January 15, 2016

Student Missions Blog: We had the opportunity to meet and interact with so many University of Oregon students ... to let them know why God's love is such a bigger deal than all else.

New York: A conversation on the doorstep

January 15, 2016

Student Missions Blog: We had about a 20-minute conversation about what he believed and what we know to be the truth. I could tell Richard was hungry for the truth, but he was also cautious why everything we said pointed back to God.

New York: God's perfect timing

January 15, 2016

Student Missions Blog: Serving with a mission team in New York's Chinatown was a lot more difficult than I expected. I was having a difficult time presenting the gospel to anyone.

Letters: Terrorism & 'vigilante culture'; Religious freedom for Muslims

January 15, 2016

My question is: Precisely what legislation would you suggest would be effective in keeping guns away from terrorists?

Richard Ray: It's time to re-engage your church

January 15, 2016

From January through March, create opportunities for your church members to re-engage with each other.

René Maciel: Texas Baptists' special places

January 15, 2016

Texas Baptists are blessed by their affiliation with 28 institutions, including Baylor University and Hardin-Simmons University.
