

DOWN HOME: Her world grows & also shrinks

May 12, 2008

Truth be told, I probably enjoyed hearing about Molly's journeys about as much as she enjoyed actually taking them.

2nd Opinion: The morning of many miracles

May 12, 2008

Doug Mendenhall warns you might just get what you pray for.

RIGHT or WRONG? Guided by the Ten Commandments

May 12, 2008

We just don't hear about the Ten Commandments anymore. They carry the essence of the law of our land and guidelines for all of life. I'm embarrassed that our preachers apparently aren't preaching the Ten Commandments. Lots of morality issues would be settled if they did, don't you think?

Texas Baptist Forum

"Frankly, I'm excited about the prospects of using time-tested, proven business techniques from industry to accomplish kingdom purposes."...

Out Loud: Quotes in the news

May 12, 2008

"Science and faith, reason and faith should never be seen as opposites but as bed-fellows."

—Tony Blair, former British prime minister and a recent convert to Catholicism (RNS)

EDITORIAL: The case for a death penalty moratorium

May 12, 2008

Ironically, Thomas Clifford McGowan Jr. became a free man the same day the U.S. Supreme Court freed states to resume executions. McGowan's case illustrates why Texas and other states should maintain a moratorium on capital punishment.

DOWN HOME: A lesson learned while pulling weeds

May 12, 2008

Every once in awhile, I stare face-to-face into the reality I have become someone very different than the little boy I used to be.

2nd Opinion: Facing fears & global warming

May 12, 2008

John Christy, a distinguished professor of atmospheric science and director of the Earth Systems Science Center at the University of Alabama in Huntsville, wonders if the Christian Green Movement is heading in the wrong direction.

Down Home Is it a bathroom or spiritual metaphor?

May 12, 2008

Is it a bathroom or spiritual metaphor? Call it The Law of Unintended Home Improvements. Or maybe call it The Difference Between Husbands and Wives. I'm not sure what you call it, but we've got Exhibit A at our casa in Coppell.
