

David Garland: Pastor, teacher, scholar

September 6, 2021

David Garland, professor in Baylor University's Truett Theological Seminary, shares his background and thoughts on Christian education.

Dr. Ray Malone: 'God said it and put this fire within me'

September 6, 2021

Dr. Ray Malone, Texas Baptists' director of human resources, shares his background and thoughts on ministry and the church.

Robert Creech: Serving the church and equipping others to do the same

September 6, 2021

Robert Creech, professor of pastoral leadership at Baylor University's

Truett Theological Seminary, shares his thoughts on education and ministry.

Cory Hines: Serving where he was transformed

September 6, 2021

Cory Hines, president of Howard Payne University in Brownwood, shares his background and thoughts on academic leadership.

Dr. Fritz Williams: 'Transformation begins with transparency'

September 6, 2021

Dr. Fritz Williams, pastor of First Baptist Church in Lockhart and core faculty member at Stark College and Seminary, shares his thoughts on being a Christian educator.

Mike Miller: ‘I want people to know my message...not my name’

September 6, 2021

Mike Miller, senior pastor of Central Baptist Church in Jacksonville, shares his background and thoughts on the church and ministry.

Kenneth Huggins: ‘The first act of love is to listen’

September 6, 2021

Kenneth Huggins, recently retired pastor of Elkins Lake Baptist Church, shares his background and thoughts on ministry and the church.

Jimmy Dorrell: ‘The renewal of the church for God’s mission’

September 6, 2021

Jimmy Dorrell, pastor and leader in Christian community development, shares his background and thoughts on ministry and the church.

Doug Page: ‘I love every aspect of shepherding’ God’s flock

September 6, 2021

Doug Page, senior pastor of First Baptist Church in Grapevine, shares his background and thoughts on the church and ministry.

Jordan Villanueva: I didn’t get here on my own

September 6, 2021

Jordan Villanueva, instructor of Christian studies at Howard Payne University, shares his background and thoughts on ministry and the church.

Todd Roberson: God's call often is bigger than we imagine

September 6, 2021

Todd Roberson, president and CEO of Children at Heart Ministries, shares his thoughts on ministry with children and families.

Evan Henson: 'We are never not being disciplined.'

September 6, 2021

Evan Henson, associate pastor of student ministries at First Baptist Church in Lubbock, shares his background and thoughts on ministry.