

Voices: Point/Counterpoint: Christians and the Court

January 7, 2026

Jack Goodyear contends politics, not religion, has led to a Supreme Court more accepting of strong executive authority.

Voices: Point/Counterpoint: Catholics and the Court

January 7, 2026

Leon Blevins contends Catholics on the U.S. Supreme Court are more accepting of strong executive authority.

Voices: A Christmas trek

January 7, 2026

Johnny Teague contemplates Mary and Joseph's "long, arduous journey" and Jesus' even more profound trek through life, death and life again.

Voices: The light through Christmas depression

January 7, 2026

Christmas is not joyous for everyone. Ruth Cook shares her experience with depression during Christmas and how she found healing.

Voces: ¿Dónde están los graduados hispanos de los bautistas de Texas?

January 7, 2026

El Dr. Gabriel Cortés comparte una visión general de dónde se encuentran actualmente muchos graduados hispanos de las escuelas afiliadas a la Convención Bautista de Texas y dónde podrían estar en el futuro.

Voices: Where are Texas Baptists' Hispanic graduates?

January 7, 2026

Dr. Gabriel Cortés shares a glimpse of where many Hispanic graduates of Texas Baptists-affiliated schools are now and may be in the future.

Voices: Forgiveness: 70 times seven

January 7, 2026

Johnny Teague shares a story from his church about forgiveness and discipleship.

Voices: Holy ground: Home alone for the holidays

January 7, 2026

Ruth Cook reflects on the deep grief of losing loved ones and the challenge that grief presents during the holidays.

Voices: The power of a daily family devotional

January 7, 2026

Gay N. Lewis shares how a daily family devotional impacted her family and suggestions on how others can implement the practice in their homes.

Voices: ‘What makes for a good D.O.M.?’

January 7, 2026

Stacy Conner celebrates the ministry of directors of missions in rural Texas, where churches are smaller and miles are greater.

Voices: Charlotte heard the

Lord

January 7, 2026

Johnny Teague tells the story of how God used a radio show and a woman named Charlotte to care for a couple in need.

Voices: Pastoring through corporate prayer

January 7, 2026

Kevin Burrow issues a call to corporate prayer, giving testimony to its power for his church and for his family.