

HSU trustees remain committed to decision to close Logsdon

March 3, 2020

After their second meeting within three weeks, Hardin-Simmons University trustees expressed “full confidence” in President Eric Bruntmyer and in their decision to close Logsdon Seminary and several other university programs.

Former deans and provost criticize plan to close Logsdon

March 3, 2020

Two former deans of the Logsdon School of Theology said a trustee-approved plan to close Logsdon Seminary and scale back the remaining undergraduate religion program appear contrary to the original intent of the donors whose gifts established them.

HSU president addresses BGCT

Executive Board

March 3, 2020

HSU trustees voted to close Logsdon Seminary and direct endowment earnings to undergraduate programs in the School of Theology because the university could not “keep two financially weak programs going,” President Eric Bruntmyer told Texas Baptist leaders.

Updated: HSU trustees vote to close Logsdon Seminary

March 3, 2020

Hardin-Simmons University’s board of trustees voted to close Logsdon Seminary. (This article was most recently updated at 9 p.m. on Feb. 12 to include additional information.)

TBM provides clean water, Living Water in Papua New Guinea

March 3, 2020

Volunteers with the TBM water ministry make available both clean drinking water and the Living Water of Christ to villagers in Papua New Guinea.

Texas Baptist leaders participate in Rally for Life

March 3, 2020

Baptist General Convention of Texas Executive Director David Hardage and BGCT President Michael Evans addressed a crowd of more than 20,000 people from the steps of the State Capitol during the Texas Rally for Life.

Partnership benefits multiple congregations in Garland

March 3, 2020

A growing Ethiopian church, a once-thriving Anglo congregation and a start-up congregation of Millennial and Gen-X Christians share a common facility and vision for reaching their area with the gospel. And two of the three congregations share the same pastor.

Baptist Standard becomes even more accessible

March 3, 2020

The Baptist Standard announces a change to its 131-year-old subscription model and the anticipated launch of new digital products.

Faith leaders seek to combat stigma of mental illness

March 3, 2020

Historically, faith traditions often have been reluctant to talk about mental health and suicide. That is changing.

Beth Moore the top 2019

newsmaker in the Baptist Standard

March 3, 2020

Bible teacher Beth Moore and a Corpus Christi layman who testified to God's sustaining grace through personal tragedy were among the Baptist Standard's top newsmakers in 2019.

Mandated 24-hour-awake supervision affects STCH Ministries

March 3, 2020

South Texas Children's Home Ministries is among the foster care providers affected by a federal judge's order requiring group homes to provide 24-hour-awake supervision of children under the state's permanent managing conservatorship.

Former professor and seminary at odds over cause of dismissal

March 3, 2020

Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary denied charges by a former humanities professor, who identifies as a previously gay abuse survivor, that he was fired because he refused to stop talking about homosexuality and sex abuse.