

S2 E7: ‘When You Come to the End of Your Strength, He’s There’ with Rev. Tamiko Jones

November 18, 2020

Rev. Tamiko Jones, the executive director and treasurer of Woman’s Missionary Union of Texas, shares how God called her away from her job in corporate America into ministry.

---

S2 E6: ‘Honesty, integrity and high Christian principles’ with Drayton McLane

November 18, 2020

Drayton McLane Jr., chairman of the McLane Group and former CEO of the Houston Astros Baseball Club, shares how honesty, integrity and high Christian principles have guided him through life and business.

---

S2 E5: ‘God cares deeply about injustice’ with Kathryn Freeman

November 18, 2020

Kathryn Freeman, who is a lawyer, advocate, Master of Divinity Student at Truett Theological Seminary, writer and co-host of the Melanated Faith podcast, shares her passion for faith, family and politics in today’s episode.

---

S2 E4: ‘The power of Proverbs for every place’ with Rhoda Gonzales

November 18, 2020

Rhoda Gonzales, a 30-year veteran of the retail advertising industry and production manager for Neiman Marcus, shares how the book of Proverbs is a foundation for her personal and professional life.

---

S2 E3: ‘The job I never knew I

wanted' with Rev. Cokiesha Bailey Robinson

November 18, 2020

Cokiesha Bailey Robinson, Associate Dean of Diversity and Inclusion at Grace College and Seminary in Winona Lake, Indiana, speaks about her faith journey and her life passion to share the gospel, to affirm and empower men and women in ministry and to serve as a bridge for racial reconcilers and seekers of justice, diversity and peace.

---

S2 E2: 'Everybody has their struggles' with Jay Cox

November 18, 2020

Jay Cox shares his story of recovery from alcoholism and how Jesus and his church community at Pioneer Drive Baptist Church changed his life.

---

S2 E1: 'I grew up in Jesus'

neighborhood' with R.E.

November 18, 2020

R.E. is an Arab Christian born and raised in Nazareth, Israel. He shares his story of coming to faith and how he now serves as a cross-cultural mobilizer working to equip churches for effective outreach to Muslims. His full name and photo are withheld due to security issues.

---

Season 2 launches August 26, 2020

November 18, 2020

Thank you for joining us for Season One of the 'On the Way' Podcast. Season Two of the podcast will launch on August 26th.

---

S1 E9: 'Freely We Have Been Given, Freely We Give' with John Barnard

November 18, 2020

John Barnard, a 46-year old skateboarder who loves Jesus, tells stories of how God has freely given to him and how he shares that love with others through Middleman, his skateboarding ministry in Waco, Texas.

---

S1 E8: 'God, If You're Real, Give Me Something' with Joshua Sharp

November 18, 2020

This week's episode features Joshua Sharp. Joshua shares how he wrestled with his faith, came back to God, and how from there he went on to receive a Master of Divinity degree from Baylor University's Truett Theological Seminary.

---

S1 E7: 'Jesus is Everything For Us' with Amos and Mariah Humphries

November 18, 2020

Amos and Mariah Humphries both have a family heritage of church ministry that shaped their lives, but they had to make their relationship with Jesus their own which eventually led them back into ministry.

---

S1 E6: ‘When You Say, “Yes,” God’s Love Will Flood In’ with Joshua Choquette

November 18, 2020

In this episode of ‘On the Way,’ Joshua Choquette, a Texas Baptists-endorsed chaplain in the New York Air National Guard, shares how he turned to Christ from Wicca at the age of 27 and how that affected his marriage and career.