

S1 E5: ‘Remember Us When You Come Into Your Kingdom’ with Jeremy Everett

May 13, 2020

Jeremy Everett is the founder and executive director of the Baylor Collaborative on Hunger and Poverty. In this interview, he and Editor Eric Black discuss how living out Christianity means taking care of those who are hungry and how feeding the hungry can bring diverse groups of people together.

S1 E4: ‘Our Father’s Answers to My Father’s Questions’ with Jim Denison

May 13, 2020

Jim Denison of Denison Forum joins Editor Eric Black for episode 4 of ‘On The Way’ where he explores God’s answers to hard questions his father asked.

S1 E3: ‘Comforting with the Comfort I’ve Been Given’ with Mark Grace

May 13, 2020

Mark is the Chief of Mission and Ministry for Baylor Scott & White Health. He is devoted to equipping and developing spiritual leaders with highly effective spiritual care abilities. He leads a spiritual care education program with global and local impact on pastoral care, pastoral education, pastoral leadership and addressing humanitarian needs.

S1 E2: ‘Medicine is My Calling’ with Mac Mahaffey

May 13, 2020

My friends and clients call me Dr. Mac. I believe in Christ. He is the anchor of my life. I am a Family Medicine Physician in Cleburne TX, and a graduate of Baylor University with a Music Performance Degree on Trombone. I've been a worship leader and guitarist since age 11 and a youth leader for a few decades. I continue to be thankful for the gift of music in my life. My wife Mary Ellen and our 4 children enable me to share this love with young people daily in our home recording studio, where my youth band kids learn music theory, worship leader skills, musicianship while having discussions about faith. I am a builder. Construction and property management is my side gig. It is a joy to work with my hands and create, helping others find homes to enjoy.

S1 E1: 'I Get to Tell the Stories' with Ken Camp

May 13, 2020

Ken Camp has been managing editor of the Baptist Standard more than 16 years. He and his wife Diane are members of South Garland Baptist Church in east Dallas County. He is the father to three sons and granddad to three grandsons and one granddaughter.